

FRESH FACES

Kelly Brook began modeling at age 16 when her mother entered her into a beauty contest. Now 30, the Kent, England native has established a multifaceted career that includes work in film, television, theater, dance, print ads and her own swimwear and perfume lines. She'll be seen next in Piranha 3-D, a remake of the 1978 horror movie. University Link Magazine had the opportunity to speak with Brook about her new film, her on-set experiences and buddies, what it's like to be a model in today's world, and why she hated her vacation in Tunisia.
